

A Return to Roots

A half-day exploration of regenerative farming by
Begawan Biji

Begawan Biji farm was founded in 2022 to help farmers in Bali transition to chemical-free practices and increase incomes for farmers through the sale of high-quality agricultural products. We began with just one farmer and 0.44 hectares of rice and now have several farmers growing Mansur Heritage Rice on the rice fields around Begawan Biji restaurant in Bayad Village. Our aim is for farmers in the program to be able to double their incomes while restoring the health of the soil.

Highlights

Milling, Subak & Pura: Learn about the Mansur Heritage Rice cycle, discover the Subak irrigation system, and explore the deep connection between rice farming and Balinese culture.

Regenerative Farm: Understand how we restore soil quality through the Balinese way of regenerative rice farming practices with natural and traditional methods.

Permaculture Garden: Learn about our permaculture approach to farming, where every element supports the preservation of the biodiversity.
